TD1.4. Designing for Safety: Putting Walking First

11:00 - 12:30 Tuesday, 7th October, 2025 | Location: Orange cube

Gain insight into innovative strategies that put pedestrian safety at the centre of street design, from integrating automated vehicles without compromising walkability in Switzerland to reimagining residential streets in Japan. The session also presents practical tools such as Belgium's Nudge30 approach to traffic calming and showcases how targeted measures in Canadian municipalities have made arterial roads safer for people on foot, illustrating how small changes can deliver big impacts.
